EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Miss Pendleton and Miss Smith Will Make Their Bows
Today.

Miss Owen and Miss Vest Were Presented Yesterday—Other Parties.

Two debutantes will be presented at tea this afternoon—Miss Adeline Pendleton, daughter of Col. E. P. Pendleton, U. S. A., and Mrs. Pendleton, and Miss Helen Brancorner Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Richard Smith.

Senator and Mrs. Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma entertained several hundred of their own and their daughter's friends yesterday at a tea dance at Rauscher's, to mark the debut of Miss Dorothea Owen. The ballroom suite was in use, and a number of matrons from official life, including Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Carl S. Vrooman, presided at the tea table. The younger assistants were Miss Gertrude Gordon, Miss Marion Trumbull, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Maxwell Church, Miss Pauline Stone, Miss Lillian Hendrick, with Miss Olive Bain of New York, Miss Roberta Rouse of Baltimore, Miss Eleanor Scott of Pittsburgh and Miss Jane Brans of St. Louis, who are house guests of Miss Owen this week.

Mrs. Pomeroy, Mrs. McChord, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. William L. Marshall, Mrs. John Temple Graves, Mrs. J. E. Folk, Mrs. Clinton, Mrs. Wetherpoon and Mrs. Robert L. Taylor also assisted the hostess.

The flowers sent the debutante made the largest collection of the winter of American beauty roses alone over sixty dozen were sent her from friends in this and distant cities. A part of these gorgeous blossoms filled a screen near where the debutante and her mother received. Quantities of pink roses and orchids were part also of the floral compliments sent the young lady, more being added to the number today, having been delayed in delivery.

Mrs. Owen received in a gown of black velvet and cloth of gold, and the debutante was in white chiffon and velvet, and from the bouquets sent her carried one which assembled orchids, valley lilies and rosebuds. The young people assisting were later Senator and Mrs. Owen's dinner guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burr Harrison presented their niece, Miss Mary Wheeler Vest, granddaughter of the late Senator Vest of Missouri, to a large gathering of their friends yesterday at a tea given in their home on X street. An orchestra played in the lower hall, and the hostess and the debutante received in the parlor upstairs. Mrs. Harrison wore purple chiffon with a tunic of gold lace, and her niece in white satin and tulle carried a colonial bouquet with long ribbon-tied streamers.

The assistants at the happy event included Mrs. Champ Clark, Miss Mary Ambler, Mrs. George Appleby, Miss Stokes, with Miss Dimpfle of Baltimore, a house guest; Miss Francis Williams, Miss Pauline Kindelberger, Miss Pocahontas Butler, Miss Mary Lord Andrews, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, Miss Dorothy Drake, Miss Meta Evans, Miss Genevieve Clark, Miss Katherine Beach, Miss Eleanor Morgan, Mrs. Richard Stockton Field, Miss Virginia Wheeler of Baltimore, Mrs. T. Richey Stone, Mrs. James Ellison, Mrs.
